Bio...

An award-winning Christian author, Laura writes heartwarming encouragement for your soul—especially in her numerous romantic suspense novels, as well as her Christmas novellas, teen fiction trilogy, and children's stories.
Laura is a certified writing coach, a book-loving chocoholic mom and nanny, and is married to her high school sweetheart. Originally from the UK, they now live the empty nest life in Kelowna, British Columbia, with their French bulldog!

I love sharing about:

- The writing life
- Following one's dreams—how I kept my writing dream secret for 25 years!
- My Christian fiction books—especially my latest releases!
- The importance of my faith
- Christian romantic suspense genre
- All things books & the reading life
- Marriage
- Writing coaching
- French bulldog love!

I've been on other podcasts such as:

- Madlit Musings
- The Because Fiction Podcast
- The Romantic Side of Suspense
- Knives and Roses
- The Literary Scape
- A Baker's Perspective
- Between the Lines
- Behind the Story
